

Bedford Hospital Clean-Up and Maintenance Initiative

Bedford Hospital staff and Cookhouse Wind Farm Community Trust promoting community and wellness.

By Sandisiwe Bashe

Bedford Hospital extends its sincere appreciation to the Cookhouse Wind Farm Community Trust for its generous support towards the ongoing clean-up and maintenance of the hospital premises.

The Trust donated cleaning materials, masks, cleaning chemicals and a lawnmower, to help maintaining clean, safe and welcoming environment patients, staff and visitors.

As part of their continued support, the company also assists with plumbing work at the hospital and will continue with tree felling and maintenance of the surrounding grounds until the end of the month. Thereafter, Bedford Hospital will take over the ongoing maintenance.

Dr N. Z. Gonya, Acting CEO for both Adelaide and Bedford Hospitals, expressed her heartfelt appreciation on behalf of the staff and patients, acknowledging the valuable contribution and continued support towards improving the hospital environment.

This collaboration demonstrates the importance of strong community partnerships in supporting healthcare facilities and creating an environment that promotes the wellbeing, dignity and safety of patients, staff and visitors.

Cookhouse team maintaining hospital hygiene and infection prevention standards

Dr N.Z Gonya Acting CEO for both Adelaide and Bedford Hospitals and Cookhouse team.